Students Compete For Law Journal

Five Law students have been selected as competitors for membership on the Editorial Board of the Kentucky Law Journal, legal publication of the College of Law.

Announcement of their selection was made by Prof. John Batt, faculty editor of the Journal. The students are:

H. Hamilton Rice Jr., of Lexington and Owensboro, former president of Student Congress and a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, Lambda Chi Alpha and Phi Delta Theta fraternities.

Roy Edward Potter, Louisa, former mayor of Cooperstown and Shawneetown and a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, Lambda Chi Alpha and Phi Delta Theta fraternities.

William Bryan Martin, Frankfort, a Transylvania graduate, former president of Transylvania Student Body, and a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Paul D. Gudgel, Buffalo, N. Y., and Harold Dallas Rogers, Monticello, both former undergraduate students at UK.

Appointments to the Editorial Board are made by the faculty of the College of Law on the basis of high scholastic standing and demonstrated ability to do creditable legal research and writing.

The Kentucky Law Journal, tenth oldest publication of its type, was established in 1912 to encourage scholarly writing in the legal field and to train students in the development of legal skills.

College of Dentistry Dedication Today

The University's College of Dentistry—the nation's newest dental school will be formally dedicated today at the University Medical Center.

The college will be the last unit in the 27 million dollar Medical Center to come into active service. The other three units, the Colleges of Medicine and Nursing, and the University Hospital, are already in operation.

The main speaker at the dedication ceremonies at 10 a.m. in the hospital auditorium will be

U.S. Rep. John E. Fogarty (D-R.I.). Rep. Fogarty is a member of the House Appropriations Committee and is chairman of a subcommittee which provides funds for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare. He has been called the "Champion of Better Health for the Nation."

Dr. Frank G. Dickey, president of the University, will preside at the ceremonies. Others to appear on the program will be Gov. Bert T. Combs, Dr. Alvin L. Morris, dean of the college; Dr. William R. Willard, vice president for the Medical Center; and Dr. Harold L. Hillenbrand, secretary of the American Dental Association.

A symposium on three phases of dental education will follow a luncheon session. Dr. Seymour Kreshover, associate director of the National Institute of Health, will preside.

Speaking on the phases of dental education will be Dr. Raymond J. Nagle, dean of New York University's College of Dentistry; Dr. Roy O. Greep, dean of Harvard University's School of Dental Medicine; and Dr. John Hein, director of the Forsyth Dental Infirmary.

Dr. Nagle will talk on preparing dentists who are technically capable. Dr. Greep will discuss the question of preparing dentists who are leaders in the field. The education of dentists who are socially sensitive will be Dr. Hein's topic.

Dr. Lester W. Tonkes, dean of the University of Pennsylvania College of Dentistry, will summarize the remarks.

Dr. Leonard K. Hise, dean of the Indiana University School of Dentistry, will speak on "Where Do You Think You're Going?" at the dedication luncheon at 7 p.m. in the Phoenix Hotel.

Rushees To Pledge Greek Organizations

All upperclassmen, transfers, and second semester freshmen who plan to pledge a fraternity must sign a preference card from 8 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday in the Student Union Building.

Under the rules of the bid system each rushee will list in order of preference the fraternities he is willing to pledge. He may list only one, or all 19 if he wishes.

Each fraternity will submit a sealed bid card to the dean of men's office. The card will list every rushee the fraternity is willing to pledge.

The preference card and bid cards will then be matched. Sunday at 2 p.m. all rushees will assemble at Memorial Hall and a formal announcement will be made of new pledges.

Any upperclassmen, transfer, or second semester freshmen who carried 12 hours and had a 2.0 for the previous semester is eligible to pledge.

Tonight is sorority preference night. All girls out for sorority rush may go to three houses from 6:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. From 9 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. tomorrow sorority rushees will sign their preference cards in the ballroom of the SUB.

At 5:15 p.m. Monday all sorority rushees will meet with their rush canceller in the Fine Arts Building. They will then be told to which sorority they are pledged. All girls pledged to a sorority will then go back to the house as a group.

Sen. Morton To Speak Tuesday

Sen. Thurston Morton will speak to University students at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Ballroom of the Student Union Building.

The Republican senator from Louisville is seeking reelection, and his speech will include the major campaign issues.

Skip Stigger, representative of the Young Republicans Club, said, "His speech will be aimed at college students and on a college level."

"Students who attend the meeting," he said, "will be able to meet and talk with Morton after his speech to answer any question they have."

The Young Republicans Club and the Young Americans for Morton are sponsoring the speech. Morton's speech is open to all students.

13 Receive Journalism Scholarships

Thirteen students have been awarded scholarships of $100 each this semester by the University of Kentucky School of Journalism Foundation. Direct scholarship contributions to the Foundation by Kentucky daily and weekly newspapers provided the funds for the 13 grants.

Additional funds are accumulating in the Foundation which is headed by Mr. Victor Portmann, process agent, for the creation of an interest bearing scholarship fund. Grants are being made to this fund by Kentucky newspapers, and additional income is gained from Kentucky Press Association sponsorship of performances such as the U.S. Navy Band last spring and the Scot Greys and Argyll Dancers who will perform in Memorial Coliseum Oct. 23.

The 13 recipients for the fall semester are Richard G. Franklin, Somerset; Sue Endicott, Toledo, Ohio; Bonnie Ruth Jones, Lexington; Helen Clark, Lexington; Janet Maupin, Lexington; Molly McCormick, St. Albans, W. Va.; Warren N. Pope, Catlettsburg; Thomas Woodall, Lexington; Jim Bolus, Louisville; Elizabeth Anne Ward, Lexington; Anne Mitchell, Lexington; Ronnie Cathey, Lexington.

Beardslee To Speak To WUS Conference

The Rev. Alvord Beardslee, chaplain and professor of religion at Hollins College, Va., will be the principal speaker at the World University Service Consultation Conference tomorrow.

Representatives from approximately 10 Kentucky universities and colleges will attend the conference to be held in the Student Union Building.

The purpose of the consultation is given students on campuses that have had experience with WUS and international programming to come together and consult about common problems and programs.

WUS is a student organization founded to aid needy students and professors abroad, both individually and through projects designed to help the particular university community. Through this program American students are given the opportunity to help other students, not as fortunate, get an education.

In addition to Mr. Beardslee, Mrs. Esther Widm, traveling representative for WUS, will speak to the group.

Mr. Beardslee has served on the General Committee of WUS in the United States and has just returned from an Asian Seminar where he had a chance to view WUS work in Southeast Asia and the Far East.

Colleges and universities invited are: Transylvania College, College of the Bible, Lexington; Georgetown College; Berea College; University of Louisville; Centre College, Danville; Midway Junior College; Eastern Kentucky State College; Richmond; Kentucky State College, Frankfort; and the University of Kentucky.

Kernel Sweetheart

Janie Olmstead, Kernel Sweetheart of the week, is presently the reigning Kentucky Tobacco Princess. Janie, a freshman physical education major from New Castle, is now participating in the National Queen of Tobacco Land Contest in Richmond, Va. She holds titles in six other beauty contests, and will participate in the Miss Kentucky County Fair Contest in January. (Story on Page 8).

Dames Club

Recently elected officers of the Dames Club, an organization of University wives, are first row from the left, Mrs. Robert L. Price, president; and Mrs. Thomas S. Blankenship, vice president.

Second row, Mrs. James W. Herron, advisor; Mrs. Russell E. Swanson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Carl W. Leisner, treasurer; and Mrs. John J. B. Ayres, recording secretary.

Greek Groups Get New Housemother

Six fraternities and four sororities have new housemothers this fall.

The fraternities are: Alpha Gamma Rho, Mrs. Eva Phillips; Farm House, Mrs. Katherine Dennis; Kappa Sigma, Mrs. Hallie Ellis; Phi Gamma Delta, Mrs. Miriam Rhodes. Substituting are Mrs. Tammy King, Sigma Chi; and Mrs. Lena Lizarby, Triangle.

The sororities are: Delta Delta Delta, Mrs. Dorothy Talbot; Alpha Delta Pi, Mrs. Louise Smith; Delta Zeta, Mrs. Thirza Fleischer; and Zeta Tau Alpha, Mrs. Martha Warren.

Independent Seniors

Independent seniors may sign up for a portrait sitting for the yearbook anytime this week at the table on the first floor of the Journalism Building.

Student Directories

There is always a first time for everything. The '62-'63 Student Directories are due out Oct. 15.

If this great feat comes to pass it will be the first time in quite a few years that the directory has been published before November or, as happened last year, December.

This will also be the first issue compiled by the University Public Relations Department and printed as an official publication of the University. Not only will the directories be out sooner but they will also contain much more information than other issues.

One of the major advantages of this year's edition is that the directories will be given away free to all students.

We know the University operators will also be grateful if the deadline is met. Remember Oct. 15 is the day and we hope we will not have to retract these statements of praise.

Letters To The Editor

It is important that certain areas of Kernel policy be explained during the first few weeks of publication so there will be no misunderstanding between writers and readers.

First, we invite forthright and intelligent comment from our readers. We feel that through the Kernel, more than any other way, faculty and students can best express their opinions and views on any subject. You can do this by sending LETTERS TO THE EDITOR, and we promise fair consideration to all letters received.

In accordance with the policy established the last two years, all letters must be signed by the writer, or writers. Addresses and phone numbers should also be included so that the persons can be contacted if necessary. Many times we find it essential to obtain additional information or inform the writer about certain statements he has made.

Letters should be typewritten or legibly printed in ink on 8 1/2 x 11 inch paper and not exceed 300 words.

The editors will not honor requests to withhold names in the Reader's Forum and University Soapbox columns. It is our belief that if any writer has thoroughly investigated the facts and given full consideration to his topic, the writer will not be concerned about seeing his name in print. Above all letters must be in good taste and contain no libelous or false statements.

We will not consider more than one letter a week on the same subject from a writer, and we reserve the right to edit letters to fit our space. The University Soapbox, however will be available for subjects too long to be treated within the 300 word limit of the Readers' Forum.

So, we invite you to make full use of your newspaper this year. We want you to feel free to express your opinions in writing and also invite you to come to the Kernel office, which is located in the Journalism Building, and express your views in person.

Rough Road Ahead

Supreme Court Opens New Term Monday

By PAUL M. YOST
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court opens on Monday a new term with the swearing in of Arthur J. Goldberg as an associate justice to take part in decisions certain to add important chapters to history.

The former Secretary of Labor in President Kennedy's cabinet, confirmed by the Senate last Tuesday, takes his seat on the high bench amid speculation whether the tribunal will now become more liberal.

As the second Kennedy appointee to the court, the onetime labor union lawyer is regarded as likely to strengthen the liberal wing of a previously closely divided tribunal. Earlier this year the President named Byron R. White to the court.

Goldberg, successor to retired

Justice Felix Frankfurter, leader of the conservative wing, and White, successor to Justice Charles E. Whitaker—also a conservative—may align themselves in the difficult term ahead with the four jurists generally considered to be liberals. They are Chief Justice Earl Warren and justices Hugo Black, William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan.

Early predictions of court trends are hazardous, however, for the justices do not always divide in fixed patterns.

For instance, after more than three years, few observers would hazard a guess as to how Justice Potter Stewart will vote on any particular case. And White, in his first major dissent last June, voted against the court's liberals.

Some clarification of the court's future trend may come, however, with its handling of three nationally vital

THE READERS' FORUM

Stone Stump

Dear Editor,

Seeking a firm platform from which to utter world-shaking pronouncements upon trivia, my mind turns once again to the topic of the Geology Department's stone stump.

However, even such a massive specimen of antiquity as the stump might soon be turned over by arguments more weighty than even those attended in Lafferty Hall! were the stump not properly buttressed.

I speak, of course, of the stump's missing roots.

The Kernel, a veritable oracle, ordinarily, last spring printed a short history of the stump on page one. Included in this article was the statement that the roots were to be fastened to the stump with epoxy resin as soon as the weather warmed sufficiently to allow the resin to properly cure. A call to the weather bureau will verify a predominant theory that holds that the months to come in the near future will, in all probability, become cooler rather than warmer.

Having thus pursued the fate of the stump, and not wishing to see the verity of the Kernel left, as it were, in question; it behooves us to ask: "Who goofed?"

If the present state of affairs is to continue, should we presume to name the stump after Venus de Milo in order that its ageless renown be properly spread instead of its more natural roots?

With all due regards, I remain your faithful (?) servant.

DAVID FULTON SMITH

Patriotic Soul

To The Editor:

Although I did not have a chance to see Tuesday's Kernel, I read in Wednesday's Herald that Mr. Halfhill, the handbiller, plans to go on a hunger strike in the event that Mr. Morin and Miss Marlatt are dismissed from the University.

Mr. Halfhill says that, "Neither food nor water will pass my lips until freedom lives again at the University of Kentucky." In such case, then, I assume that the "breath of life and freedom" will pass forever from Mr. Halfhill's lips; that is to say, briefly, that this poor patriotic soul will die from starvation. I therefore propose that the University Board of Trustees, in the event of such dismissal, assure this great martyr's remains the dignity of a slow, natural decay, while the rest of us stand by and quietly await the inescapable "annihilation of mankind."

BOB C. TODD

Serfdom To Serfdom

It happened in Soviet Russia. It happened in China. It happened in East Germany and all through satellite Europe. Now it has happened in Cuba.

First the landless peasants were promised freedom from serfdom. The great estates would be broken up, and the peasants would own their own land. This is the invariable appeal of Communists to the peasants, and it is irresistible bait.

Then, having broken up the great estates and made a great play of passing out land titles, there was the pressure on the new small-holders to form themselves into cooperatives for their mutual advantage and in the interest of efficiency.

Then at a given moment it was announced that the cooperatives weren't working at all well and that they would have to transform themselves into collectives, or state farms. Land titles would then revert to the state, and the small-holders would find themselves back where they started, landless hired hands.

The third step in this classic sequence had been inaugurated quietly in Cuba some time ago. This will not solve Cuba's farm production problem. But that is not why it was done. It was done because property is the seedbed of capitalism and the bourgeois virtues. A propertied peasantry is a standing menace to communism, as Castro has been discovering. A rural proletariat is safer, even though it doesn't produce enough cane to satisfy the country's export needs or enough food to go around.

On The Record

Peterson Plays Jazz Score Of Music From West Side Story

By RICK McREYNOLDS
Kernel Staff Writer

If by now there is anybody that has not heard the music from West Side Story, then he must be living somewhere on another planet. The Leonard Bernstein score from the Broadway hit and smash motion picture has been performed by practically every kind of musical organization from symphony to rhythm band.

This is the problem that faced Oscar Peterson when he sat down to record his jazz version of the score: to present a jazz approach to the music from West Side Story that did not violate the essence of the music and yet let the Trio keep its identity.

In talking about his own album Peterson had this to say:

"Basically I would say that this is the first album of its type of music from West Side Story. It's a very different album, and it's primarily different because this music is an arranger's delight. We are approaching it more obviously from the player's standpoint . . . the improviser's standpoint. It's the same way we approach all our things.

"This goes along with my belief that anything in the jazz medium should contain proper room for improvisation, or what we call the creative impact.

"We have tried to give it a very definite proximity to an open, blowing type of jazz, which is what we do. And in doing this, we had to make necessary deviations, musically speaking, in some cases, while still being conscious of not destroying the Bernstein framework.

"I found it pretty difficult to approach the music from this standpoint. The reason, I would say, was that the balance between the musical image of the trio and musical image of West Side Story was an almost infinitesimal thing."

The fact that the Oscar Peterson Trio did manage to tow a narrow line between the original Bernstein score and their identity without sacrificing either for the other is quite evident as the music on the record reaches the listener's ear.

Bernstein's score, with its unusual chord structures and unique patterns, is completely preserved by the trio in theme and mood. Yet the swinging, free-blowing image of the trio is also left untampered. Whether it is the whole trio swinging or Peterson softly fondling the Bernstein score, it remains Bernstein's score and Peterson's Trio.

The tunes that Peterson chose to play on his Verve album (V V6-84554) are "Something's Coming," "Somewhere," "Jet Song," "Tonight," "Maria," "I Feel Pretty," and "Reprise."

"Something's Coming" is highlighted by bassist Ray Brown's strummed bass which gives the piece great expectancy, like something's coming. The effect is unbelievable. Just listening to Brown on the record, it is hard to believe that such a sound is possible from just a four-string bass. Yet it is Brown playing and leading the listener into an incredible solo by Peterson.

"Somewhere" features Ray Brown's beautiful arco bass work, and the subtle cymbal work of drummer Ed Thigpen. After Brown's solo Peterson takes some superb choruses, with touches of the classical showing through just enough to pay tribute to his fine technical training.

"Jet Song" moves along smoothly into Peterson's chorus (without backing) and culminates in an intense solo by Brown. "Tonight" begins with some fine interplay between the members of the trio that defies anybody to say that they cannot play funky when they want to. The rest of the song consists of hard swinging solos by Peterson that are so typical of his precise, lassy playing.

"Maria" begins with an appropriate Latin-American rhythm but soon moves into a smooth 4 4, with the bridge in 3 4. Peterson's right hand is something to listen to on the frequent four-bar breaks that he takes during the track.

The "Reprise" is a panorama of the score with smatterings of all the sounds and moods of the preceding tunes compressed into 3:55 minutes. This is the sound that unmistakably identifies West Side Story and the Oscar Peterson Trio.

After listening to the album it is not hard to see why Oscar Peterson was voted the piano chair and Ray Brown the bass spot in the Playboy All-Star jazz poll. (The voting in this poll is done by the winners of the previous year's poll.) And if that is not enough, each was voted first on his instrument in the 1961 Down Beat poll.

But if these credentials are not sufficient, then listen to the Oscar Peterson Trio's West Side Story. The sounds on those sides are enough to make a believer of anyone.

Border Apprehension

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — In his monthly report, the Arizona entomologist said the state's border inspection stations apprehended 3,248 red scales, 159 mealybugs, four snails, one sweet potato weevil, one oriental fruit moth and four unidentified insects.

These coupons will enable you to see the movies for 50 cents and the combined performance for 75 cents. Without the coupon admission is $1.00 and the last showing starts at 7:50 p.m.

'Rear Window' Spine Chilling

By NANCY MOORE, Associate Managing Editor

Alfred Hitchcock uses a simple scene—the rear windows of apartment houses—to set the spine-chilling movie, "Rear Window."

James Stewart, a cameraman, is staying in an apartment development until his broken leg heals. Grace Kelly, playing his girlfriend, is a fashion expert who tries to convince Mr. Stewart that she is willing to give up her glamorous life for his rugged one.

Being confined for so long, Mr. Stewart begins watching neighboring families through the rear window of his apartment. There's the dancer on the second floor; the newlyweds; the music composer; the man with the invalid wife; and the old maid "Miss Lonelyhearts."

Even though the movie is centered around the mysterious actions of the man with the invalid wife and her sudden disappearance, the viewer glimpses snapshots of the other peoples' lives.

Thelma Ritter, as Stewart's nurse, and Wendell Corey, as his detective friend, add the touch of humor so prevalent in Hitchcock movies.

Hitchcock doesn't let any of his "rear window" tenants talk during the movie, thus showing how much can be learned of a person's character just by his actions.

Cats Invade Ole Miss Saturday

Kentucky will attempt to make Ole Miss's biggest color problem that of a fighting blue and white clad Wildcat squad as they invade the imbattled state of Mississippi to battle the Rebels Saturday night.

Kentucky's "thin-line thirty" will be a decided underdog in the 8 p.m. (CST) encounter.

The Wildcat squad has added strength this week with the return of Denny Cardwell from the sick list.

Ole Miss is led by an All-America tackle and a pair of talented quarterbacks. They defeated Memphis State in their opener last Saturday night by a 21-7 count.

Quarterback Glynn Griffing passed for one score and lugged the pigskin for another six pointer. Sub quarterback, and starting fullback, Perry Lee Dunn crashed over for the third score. Wes Sullivan added the three points after touchdown.

Coach Johnny Vaught has installed a wing-T offense similar to a single wing. He even designates a halfback as wingback. UK coach Bob Ford scouted the Rebels in the Memphis State game. He describes Ole Miss as "a real passing team" and Griffing as "probably the best passer in the Southeastern Conference."

Kentucky fans remember the 60-yard pass Griffing fired that put Ole Miss ahead to stay in last year's 20-6 Ole Miss victory.

Ole Miss has a 200 pound front wall. Besides the 240 pound Dunnaway at tackle, the guards weigh around 215, the ends over 200, and the other tackle also is a 200 pounder.

Kentucky's middle line can not match the Rebs in either size or experience. They will have to be better conditioned, more aggressive "Bradshaw players" to better the monster Rebs.

Kentucky's Tom Simpson, converted from his familiar end spot to center for the campaign, was high on the All-America check list for his outstanding play in the Florida State game.

For UK to have a chance to win the encounter, the Wildcat forward wall will have to give Jerry Woolum better protection than he had in the State game. The All-America passing combination of Woolum to Tom Hutchinson could connect only three times against the Seminoles.

Perky Bryant was the leading carrier in the State game. He carried ten times for a net gain of 24 yards.

Ken Bocard had the best average in the opening game as he gained eight yards in his one carry.

A sendoff parade is set for 10:30 today. It will leave from Wildcat Manor where the team will take a bus to the airport for their Mississippi invasion.

The game will be held in Jackson's Memorial Stadium. The Oxford-based university has a branch in Jackson.

Airborne Invasion Planned

Kentucky's All-America passing combination of Jerry Woolum and Tom Hutchinson talk over plans for Saturday's invasion of powerful Ole Miss with coach Charlie Bradshaw. The Woolum to Hutchinson combo completed three passes in last week's scoreless tie with Florida State.

Sports Shorts

Charlie Bradshaw is the third UK grad to direct the fortunes of Kentucky's footballers. J. White Guyn, coach from 1906-08 and A.D. (Ab) Kirwan, 1938-44, are the other Kentucky grads to hold head football coaching duties at their alma mater.

Four Wildcat All-Americans were named to the SEC team of the decade (1950-59). Selected were Steve Mulliner, Lou Michael, Bob Gann, and Vin (Babe) Parrish. The AP eleven was selected by southern sport writers and commentators.

Kentucky lost the first 17 meetings with Vanderbilt on the gridiron, 13 by shutouts. The Cat's first victory was by 21-13 in 1939. The series stands 8-23-3.

Kittens Battle Commodores In Season Opener Today

A Kitten squad short on polish but long on aggressiveness and determination hosts Vanderbilt's Commodore Frosh at 3 p.m. today on Stoll Field.

The Kittens, says frosh staff coach Dave Hart "may foul-up alignments and break assignments but they will be after Vandy. They have had little time to practice on their plays. This is because they have had to run Florida State and Ole Miss plays against the varsity due to the lack of varsity players."

He continued, "These are Coach Bradshaw's first recruited group. We're very proud of them. They are strictly behind him and believe in him 100 percent and all he stands for. They hope to get off on the right foot and begin playing the type of football that Bradshaw hopes to bring to Kentucky."

We will definitely use a two-team system and would like to use three," said Hart.

The acting coach for today's encounter is still undecided. He will be chosen from among the five staff coaches working with both the varsity and frosh. These are Ralph Hawkins, Bud Moore, Lee-man Bennett, Bill Jasper, and Hart. Scouting assignments will determine the coach.

The starting positions are still up for grabs. They stock up as follows:

Fighting for the starting end births are Ed Stanko, Rick Kestner, and John Andrighetti. All are over 6 foot and 200 pounds.

Tackles will probably be Mike Angelo and Sam Ball. Rick Tucci, expected to play a lot on defense and handle the kicking chores injured his ankle in practice Tuesday and will not be available to play.

Jim Miles, Howard Keyes, and Tony Manzonelli are fighting for the starting guard slots. Gerald Murphy, expected to be fighting for a starting guard slot is injured and will miss the opener.

Holding down the center slot will be big Bill Pochciol, a 6-3, 200 pound Pennsylvanian.

Alternating at the quarterback slot will be Rick Norton and Tal bott Todd. Coach Hart said Todd will probably be used as a wild-card substitution for Norton.

The closest battle on the squad is between three scrappy fullbacks. Mike McGraw, Jim Blubaugh, and Desmond Kelley are all seeking the starting role.

Coach Hart said Kentucky's Kittens know little about Vandy's frosh except that they will use a "T" offense with flankers and slots. The Kittens have viewed films of last year's 7-0 loss to Vandy.

There are four Kentuckians on the Vandy roster. They are Rolfe Kruckas, Lexington, Steve Smith, Henderson, Mike Geiger, Morganfield, and Frank Corum, Madisonville.

UKians will be admitted to the 3 p.m. encounter on presentation of their ID cards. Admission is 50c for children and $1.00 for adults other than UK students.

Coach Hart said the Kittens are a determined bunch of boys. They just can't wait to get on the field. Besides coming here for an education, they are here to play football.

The freshman squad has not been bothered with the dropout problem that has crippled the varsity as far as depth is concerned. The squad of forty has remained intact from the first days of practice.

Frosh Coed Reigns As Tobacco Princess

Janie Olmstead, Kernel Sweetheart of the week, is well on her way toward collecting many beauty queen titles. Janie already holds six titles in beauty contests throughout the nation.

Janie presently reigns as Kentucky Tobacco Princess. She won a $2,000 physical education scholarship from the Ambet School for her proficiency in pantomime and dance with a routine of "Honey Bun" from the movie "South Pacific."

At the present time Janie is in Richmond, Va. participating in the Queen of Tobacco Land Contest. When she returns, she will begin preparations for the Miss Kentucky County Fair Contest to be held in Louisville in January.

Janie presently holds the titles of Miss Kentucky Ambet, Miss Madison Gregatta, Miss National Orchard Grass, Miss Henry County Fair, Miss Carroll County Fair, and third runnerup in the National Ambet Contest in New York City.

Janie is presently in competition for $1,000.

Her interests lie in the fields of swimming, tennis, pantomime, and dance routine.

Sonoray Selecting Breeding Stock

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Missouri livestock men have voted to use sonoray, a high frequency sound instrument, to measure meatiness of live and animals as a means of selecting breeding stock.

Sonoray is based on the principle of the sonoscope used by the Navy to detect submarines. The sonoray sends out sound waves which are reflected back to the machine by the layers between fat, muscle and bone in livestock.

Using the sonoray, trained technicians can predict with reasonable accuracy the size of the loin eye of an animal. Size of the loin eye indicates meatiness of an animal and is an important consideration in selecting breeding stock. In the past animals have had to be slaughtered to get this measurement.

Sales of timber from farm woodlands bring the nation's farmers $187 million a year.
